Vitali beach offers one of the most beautiful routes one can take in Andros.

It is the one that starts from the area of Gavrio with a length of about 15 km, of which 3 km is a passable dirt road.

The rest requires a little patience and offering truly magnificent views as it passes through the mountain, this 45-minute journey gives the visitor an unforgettable experience.

It starts from the car and ends in a cool dive, in clear blue and calm waters.

Vitali Beach is paved with fine pebbles and small, long, narrow stones, which is especially appreciated on days when the wind is strong and the sandy beaches whip bathers.

In addition, although the waters are deep and crystal clear, they are not too cold like on other beaches of the island.

Bathing in this small creek is very friendly. Vitali Beach offers natural shade throughout the day, from a rock located to its right. At the same time, it also offers shade from umbrellas, since it is organized and the beach bar provides it with sunbeds.

Vitali Beach is ideal for practicing diving. All day long you can see young and old jumping into the sea from its high cliffs.

At the same time, the view it offers of the endless blue is wonderful, the small church at its edge is picturesque and rests the gaze of the vacationers.

All together its characteristics make it stand out as one of the most beautiful and unforgettable beaches of the island. Without further ado, the effort and time the visitor will spend to get to Vitali Beach is more than worth it.
