

Psili Ammos

37.1615621, 24.522361375945

Psili Ammos is undoubtedly one of the most beautiful beaches in Greece.

Multiple awards from various travel guides and characterized in 2003 by the Sunday Times as the best beach in Europe. Therefore, it is rightly considered and probably is the most popular beach of Serifos.

The name of the beach perfectly characterizes the landscape you will encounter. Hills of golden yellow fine sand and tamarisk trees along almost the entire length of the beach make up the scenery, offering shade to its visitors.

At the same time, its shallow and clear blue waters make it ideal for families and children, while the fine sand is the ideal terrain for racket lovers.

The beach is not organized so you will not find sunbeds and umbrellas. However, you will be able to get the essentials from the taverns that exist.
